UNINVITED GUESTS.

STRANGE VISIONS AT LONDON DANCE.

Writing in a London contemporary the other day a correspondent relates that in the early stages of a dance in one of London's smartest ballrooms he was sitting by the entrance, listening to the newcomers being announced.

"Suddenly two people in appearance and manner entirely out of keeping with the fashionable surroundings presented themselves. To add to the mystery of their presence they were ushered in under different names, as 'Miss' and 'Mr.'—a sufficiently curious combination, since it is not customary for an unmarried girl to attend dances in hotels under the chaperonage of a young man."

Of late such an experience has been most frequent. Not long ago a hostess, having sent out 300 invitations in connection with a dance at a hotel, received 250 acceptances. However, when the account was to hand, it was noticed that 340 guests were being charged for.

Fueled as to the increase in number, the lady demanded an explanation from the manager of the hotel. Thereupon she was informed that an almost complete list of the names of the guests present would be submitted. Subsequently a list of 320 names arrived. In a letter accompanying it the writer explained that the fifteen names unaccounted for were those of persons who, not wishing to be announced, did not give their names. After a close scrutiny of the list, it was discovered that of the ninety extra persons six were total strangers. Nevertheless, the account rendered was duly settled.

But is it not surprising that people should attend social gatherings without invitations? Indeed, the audacity of it is overwhelming. Are there no ways or means of telling the wiles of these pests of Society?

DON'T NEGLECT YOUR FAMILY.

WHEN you fail to provide your family with a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy at this season of the year, you are neglecting them, as bowel complaint is sure to be prevalent, and it is too dangerous a malady to be trifled with. This is especially true if there are children in the family. A dose or two of this remedy will place the trouble within control and perhaps save a life, or at least a doctor's bill. For sale by all Grocers and Storekeepers.

WHITE SLAVE TRAFFIC.

International Congress.

Delegates from all parts of the world attended the fifth International Congress for the suppression of the white slave traffic, which opened at the Caxton Hall, Westminster, last month. The congress has been organized by the National Vigilance Association.

The Earl of Aberdeen, Lord Lieutenant of Ireland, occupied the chair at the opening of the proceedings. H.R.H. the Duchess of Albany and the Duchess of Marlborough occupied seats on the "platform."

Addresses of welcome were given by the Archbishop of Canterbury, the Countess of Aberdeen, representing the International Council of Women; the Rev. B. P. Horton, representing the Non-Confessional Church; the Chief Rabbi, Dr. Horowitz; and Mr. Cyril Cobb, chairman of the London County Council.

Lord Aberdeen alluded to the interest taken in the proceedings by his Majesty's Government, as shown by the presence of representatives of the Home Office, the India Office, the Colonial Office, and the Foreign Office.

Lady Aberdeen said the organized work of the Bureau of Information and its committee, in co-operation with the Government of the different countries and the voluntary societies who were pledged to break that traffic, had already wrought great things and had demonstrated the absolute necessity, not only of international action, but of unremitting international watchfulness, so that there might be no refuge left on earth where those who sought gain by trafficking in the bodies and souls of those young sisters could live.

The Archbishop of Canterbury said that was one of the efforts in which they were to succeed, they had to enlist the regulated and orderly enthusiasm of many people in many lands. For that reason their welcome that day was different from the merely friendly and courteous welcome they extended to those who came from across the sea. They all felt, he supposed, what a surprising thing, amazing and humiliating, it was that here, in the twentieth century of the Christian era, such a congress should be necessary. It was startling to think that the things of which they were proud in civilization—postal and telegraphic communication, travelling facilities, and all the rest of it—were capable of being used, not for good, but for almost infinite evil, and he spoke of the responsibility that rested upon them to prevent these facilities from being used for infamous purposes. (Cheers.)

The Cardinal Archbishop of Westminster said they were compelled to face the facts, and to endeavour in every way they could to put a stop to that most horrible traffic.

The Rev. B. P. Horton remarked that the crusade was the mightiest era of the twentieth century. They were, however, not entering the lists in the cause of beauty, rank, or dignity, but in the cause of womanhood, ignorant, misled, deceived.

The Chief Rabbi declared that the white slave traffic was a challenge to civilization.

INFLUENCE OF THE STAGE.
Herr von Driesen (Germany) presided at the afternoon session, when telegrams expressing wishes for the success of the congress were received from the German Emperor and the Queen of Norway.

The first question discussed was the extension of the laws for the protection of children to the children employed in theatres, cinemas, and concert halls. The question was raised by the French National Committee, and was discussed in French.

In the course of the discussion one of the French delegates declared that the stage was after the entry into a life of shame, and urged that the age at which young women should be permitted to be engaged in theatres in their native land should be raised to 18, and in the case of foreign countries, to 21.

M. Henneguin (France) protested against the statement that the stage often led to a life of shame; and declared that there was no danger to actresses engaged in the presentation of serious dramatic works.

It was decided that a resolution dealing with the question should be submitted on Friday.

The next question discussed was the action of the international white slave traffic, and what new methods should be used in the fight.

Dr. C. E. Janney (America), in raising the question, said that, notwithstanding the interest awakened in the subject, it could not be said the traffic had greatly diminished. He submitted a proposal on behalf of the American National Committee that a commission should be appointed to study the question, and report at the next congress.

It was agreed to take a vote on the question on the following Friday.

A DEAD MAN'S BRAIN.

Under the direction of Dr. E. E. Southard, scientists in the Harvard Medical School are trying to read the brain of the late Dr. Maurice Hays Richardson, formerly of the faculty of that institution. The examinations are being conducted secretly in the neuropathological department.

Dr. Richardson was a firm believer that thoughts made definite lines in the brain, and the present examination is being conducted in accordance with wishes expressed in his will.

When a woman builds a house she wants plenty of cupboards. Then she spends most of her time looking in them for burglars, comments a wag.

However much of a Suffragette a woman may be, says an American writer, she will still wish there was a man at home when a tramp comes to the door.

Mr. D. J. Knox, at the Bookellers' Congress, told this story, which he described as a conversation between two Scotchmen. "James," said one, "how is it ye are so enormously successful and ye are so kind w' your customers as well?" "Oh," replied the other, "it's this way: I gie on the top of the customer because I'm a friend o' his, and I always take two hundredweight of the ton because he's a friend o' mine."

WILKING REMAINS WORLD'S CHAMPION ON GRASS.

(By the Special Correspondent of the London "Daily Telegraph.")

History repeated itself in more than one way at Wimbledon yesterday. When Norman Brookes, the first invader from the overseas to reach the challenge round, was divided from the championship by H. L. Doherty, his victory was confidently predicted in many quarters. Doherty's all-round stroke equipment, and the fine, gentlemanly which directed it, triumphed over the serving and volleying specialist who had beaten every player a glass below the champion. Again, five years later, when Boris Wright, the second invader to come within sight of the title, reached the stage which gave him access to the great prize, he also a serving and volleying specialist, though of a more orthodox type than Brookes—was worsted and ultimately beaten by the "all-round man" The British winner then was Wilking. The British winner yesterday was Wilking. He beat McLaughlin by the same methods, and also with virtually the same score; as Doherty beat Brookes in 1903, and by the same concentrated zeal and alert generalship as he beat Wright, after five sets, in 1910.

A record crowd.

No lawn-tennis match in the annals of Wimbledon, attracted so much public interest as yesterday's challenge round. In the palmy days of the Renshaw epoch enthusiasts willingly paid half a sovereign for a brick on which to stand and peer over their neighbour's heads. Seats to see the American champion attack an English citadel on America's Day of Independence could not be bought for love or money after midday. Private owners, early on the scene, are said to have sold their places for as much as £10. What those who report is true or not, I know of Americans willing to pay as much. Before the gates were opened, at half-past twelve, a queue half a mile long was assembled in the Worples-road, and when, at two o'clock, it was announced that every inch of space round the centre court was filled, hundreds were still coming down. The All England Club have added to their accommodation year by year; obviously, they will have to extend it much more. During the progress of the match there was such an indecent crush round the barriers that, to avoid serious injury, several ladies had to be lifted over by policemen into the security of the stands. Fortunately the crowd was amenable to the admirable discipline which prevailed.

STORY IN THREE CHAPTERS.

Roughly speaking, the story of the contest may be divided into three chapters, each with a moral of its own. The plot began to thicken after McLaughlin had won the first two games with the loss of only one ace. His first two service returns were forward lifting drives, which, for speed and direction, were perfect. They delighted the American section of the crowd, seemed almost to have into silence that large section which had been brought up on half-moon returns bounding into the gooseberry bushes. Wilking accepted this early sign of battle, as he accepted McLaughlin's four unreturnable services in the next games, with the cold eyes of a man who goes danger and is prepared to face it. The American's supporters—judging by their cheers—evidently thought this was the beginning of the end.

But in four minutes Wilking was level at 2 all. On his way he had shown, first, that his own service, pitched persistently to McLaughlin's backhand, had its distinctive value; secondly, that he possessed the skill and resource to return McLaughlin's service. The American got to 4-2, and even to 5-3, but the eighth game was ominously long; his service did not intimidate Wilking in the slightest. Then, when Wilking drew level at 5-5, and forged ahead at 6-5, incidentally winning McLaughlin's service for the second time, the character of the whole match; the road which the champion would take to victory, the weapons of attack and defence he would use, the great task which lay before his opponent were revealed.

THE PLAYERS' TACTICS.

In yesterday's "Daily Telegraph" reviewing Wilking's chance, and suggesting that they were brighter than many supposed, I said that there were other important considerations than McLaughlin's service. One of these was the advertised weakness of the American's backhand, more especially when the rally, so to speak, had been launched on the high seas. Then Wilking's experienced acumen would tell him he would know that in McLaughlin's backhand he had a safe port in a storm, could he but steer in that direction. To this direction his compass was overpowered. He attacked it in service, on the return of service, after the rest had begun. If, by accident, when brought to the net, he volleyed to McLaughlin's forehand the point scored against him emphasized his folly; the lesson was enough. In finding this loophole Wilking showed a remarkable diagnosis in every department. McLaughlin was on the same track, attacking Wilking's backhand, and consequently upon the champion's relatively weaker side a severe strain was imposed. His backhand came splendidly through the ordeal. With the aid he made many dipping, passing shots as McLaughlin ran in with it he ventured down the line.

If you have lost your appetite to one of the big variety of dairy dishes at the ALEXANDRA CAFÉ is sure to tempt you.

with it he lobbed, and so perfectly that McLaughlin's smashing powers were nullified.

I let Wilking leading 8-5 in the first set. The American drew level with his service, then the holder went aply out at 8-6, capturing yet another service made in California. In the second set, relatively brief, Wilking was always the master of the court. He led 4-1, and was out, a strong winner, at 8-6. The remarkable accuracy of his service returns, the fact that McLaughlin was repeatedly called upon to dig up balls at his feet, seemed for a time to demoralize the challenger.

McLAUGHLIN'S EXAMINES.

But McLaughlin was to make yet another bid for power. His renaissance came in the third set, after Wilking led 4-2 and 40-15. Three fine services took him to 'vantage, and he ultimately saved the game. For a moment Wilking, his tide of fortune checked, seemed to falter. McLaughlin advanced all his volleying arts, made three deadly smashes in succession, and catching Wilking, led 6-4. From now till the end of the match, delayed for nine games, both men fought with the grim levelness of the first set. Wilking was ahead at 7-6, McLaughlin at 8-7. In the eighteenth game, when within a point of victory, the holder was footfaulted. His determination was in no way shaken by the incident. From deuce he went to 'vantage. Then, in running to save a certain winner, McLaughlin fell. It was the last episode in a great struggle.

Two factors stood well with Wilking. He has never despised the value of systematic training, believing that the first-class lawn tennis player needs it as much as the boxer; his splendid condition enabled him to sustain the fight at the highest pressure. Secondly, his experience on the Continent and elsewhere has taught him the best reply to an attacking service and its accompanying volleying campaign. Less than a month ago he resided in Paris—and with less margin to spare—a similar attack by Gobert. I have seen him win the Nice Cup outright for three years without losing a set; he played then, as he played yesterday, strenuously, fearlessly, with an intimate knowledge of the game's modern developments.

THE RESULTS.

Gentlemen's Singles Championship.—Challenge round: A. F. Wilking (holder) beat M. E. McLaughlin (winner of the All-Comers Competition) (8-6, 6-3, 10-8).

Gentlemen's Doubles Championship.—Final and Championship round: Mrs. McNeil and Miss D. P. Booth beat Mrs. Lambert Chambers and Mrs. Sterry (4-6, 2-4, retired).

All England Plate.—Semi-final round (concluded): F. F. Row beat G. A. Thomas (6-3, 7-5). Final round: F. G. Lowe beat F. F. Rowe (8-10, 6-8, 6-5).

WRECK WORTH A MILLION.

SALVAGE MEN NEAR TO THE LUTINE'S GOLD.

The work of salvage on the wrecked frigate Lutine, off Teesside, is proceeding satisfactorily. Captain Gardner, of the salvage steamer Lyons, is in charge of the operations, and amongst the articles recovered this week are three gold and a quantity of silver coins, a cannon, some old pistols, several hundred cannon balls, copper, and the pilot of the rudder.

Each day the powerful pumps of the Lyons are gradually working nearer the gold and silver specie, of which there is over a million sterling in the Lutine's strong room. The hopes of the salvors are now higher than since the work was commenced in the summer of 1911.

Two Scotsmen who had been spending a very convivial evening were returning home together. "John," said one of them, "I just stop a minute till I gang on ahead. Perhaps I shall walk steady like, an' the wife might guess something. Proceeding twenty yards or so by himself, he shouted back, "Hoo is that? Am I walkin' straight?" "Oh, aye," was the answer, "ye're a' right, but mon, the one that's w' ye is awfu' steady!"

Post-Impressionism in the Poultry Yard.—A poultry farmer at Haslemere uses bright colours in order to egg his fowls on to lay. Bright red is very effective, so is lemon. Blues, however, depress them. Light music is excellent in its results on these frivolous fowls, and for aught we know may be broken fasting off the regime egg.

THE BALKAN WAR.

Hostile Troops Near Sofia.

ROUMANIAN TROOPS NEAR SOFIA.

LONDON, July 27. Reuter's correspondent at Bukharest wires that at the request of Bulgaria the advance of the Roumanian troops has been arrested fifteen kilometres from Sofia.

GREECE AND SERVIA OBSTACLES.

Roumania's efforts to procure an immediate cessation of hostilities have been frustrated, Greece and Servia have proved obstinate and declined Roumania's proposals.

They insist upon continuing hostilities until a definitive armistice, coupled with preliminary for peace, have been signed.

THE HUMILIATION OF BULGARIA.

It is stated in Vienna that Austria, Russia and Roumania have agreed to the adoption of measures to prevent the further humiliation of Bulgaria by Greece and Servia.

GREEK STATEMENT TO THE POWERS.

Greece, in a statement to the Powers, repudiates a desire to crush Bulgaria by insisting on a simultaneous signature of the armistice and the peace preliminaries, and declares that the Bulgarians can save their Throne and preserve public order if they will accept the conditions of the victors. She further says that the Powers should apply pressure at Sofia, not at Athens and Belgrade.

THE INVASION OF BULGARIA.

A message from Constantinople states that M. Ghemidoff, the Bulgarian Foreign Minister, has telegraphed to the Porte protesting against the invasion of Bulgaria by Turkish troops.

The Grand Vizier replied on the 24th instant that some patrols, while reconnoitring, crossed the frontier, but were withdrawn by the Commander-in-Chief.

GREEKS OCCUPY DEDEAGATCH.

Greek marines are in occupation of Dedegatch.

PEACE DELEGATES START FOR BUKHAREST.

The delegates of the different States are proceeding to Bukharest. The Bulgarian Minister, M. Tontcheff, has started, likewise the Greek delegate, M. Pando. M. Venizelos has gone to Salonika to see the King before going to Bukharest.

CAPITULATION OF WIDIN EXPECTED.

The Serbians are beginning to surround Widin, and the capitulation is expected shortly. The troops of General Kutchikoff are already beginning to surrender.

BULGARIAN TROOPS DEMORALISED.

Unofficial reports from Bukharest say that the Bulgarian troops are wholly demoralised, and refuse to face the enemy.

THE POWERS WARN TURKEY.

A telegram from Berlin states that the semi-official "Norddeutsche Allgemeine Zeitung" warns Turkey that she cannot hold the territories she at present occupies against the Opposition of all the Great Powers, and that, moreover, further incursions into Bulgarian territory will not improve Turkey's chances of realising her desire for a more favourable frontier delimitation.

TURKISH ATROCITIES.

A telegram from Constantinople states that appalling reports have been received of massacres by the Turkish irregulars and Kurds following in the wake of the regular army through the newly occupied districts of Thrace where the conditions are described as "hell upon earth".

DEATH OF TWO HONGKONG MEN.

We deeply regret to record the death of two young men well-known in Hongkong and both in the service of the Public Works Department—Mr. Alexander Thomson Walker and Mr. Herbert Charles Sayer.

Mr. Walker succumbed this morning to an attack of typhoid fever, passing away in the Government Civil Hospital. He was born in 1874 and had been in the Public Works Department since 1904, where he was engaged in the capacity of Acting Executive Engineer. He was married and had been in hospital for the past fourteen days.

Mr. Sayer, who was the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. S. J. E. Sayer, well-known in Hongkong, had been in hospital suffering from pneumonia, which, it is thought, he contracted on the evening of the 10th inst. at the Victoria Recreation Club's Aquatic Fete. He was a member of the Club's General Committee, and took a keen interest in aquatic sports. Mr. Sayer was only twenty-seven years old. Since 1908 he had been employed at the Public Works Department, first as Surveyor and later as Assistant Engineer. His death came as a surprise, as he had been reported that he was making satisfactory progress. Out of respect for the memory of the deceased, the Y.R.C. have postponed indefinitely the quarter-mile championship which was to take place to-morrow evening.

SCHOOL MASTER FINED.

FOR ABUSING A PUPIL. A schoolboy summoned his teacher at the Magistracy this morning for assaulting him by striking him on the head with his hand, striking him on the side with his fist, and throwing him to the ground. Mr. C. F. Mason, of Messrs. Wilkinson and Grist, appeared for the complainant. Mr. Mason said he thought his Worship would find that the case presented some unusual facts. The defendant was a schoolmaster, and from the fact of his position and his having a large class of boys to teach and keep discipline among them, he had not only exceeded his authority, but, far from controlling himself as a schoolmaster should, he had been guilty of a gross assault upon his pupil. It was admitted that a schoolmaster had a right to give a certain amount of correction to pupils under his charge, but with the proviso that the correction should be moderate and reasonable and inflicted with the proper instrument. The facts were that on July 3 his pupil was called on the small of the back, receiving three strokes through his coat, which raised three severe bruises. The Director of the school was soon about the matter and it was more or less allowed to drop. Again on July 15 for some boyish escapade the defendant boxed the complainant's ears. Afterward the defendant called the boy on to his right and sent him to fetch the cane. The boy submitted, was the reprimand of cruelty. The cane was not used, however, but defendant punched the lad in the ribs. He submitted that the act was not a proper instrument of punishment. As the boy was leaving school defendant took him by the neck and threw him down some steps, to the ground. The lad's mother and another witness would give evidence in the afternoon. Several boys had been interviewed, and fairly refused to give evidence. He submitted that it was a grave case, and that he refused to give evidence.

HONGKONG TIDES.

The tide table given below has been compiled at the Nautical Almanac Office in London from the result of the analysis of observations taken by means of an automatic tide-recording machine in the Water Police Basin at Tsim Sha Tsui during the years 1887-8-9.

The zero of the table corresponds with the zero of the sounding in the Admiralty Charts which has been found to be 4 feet 3 inches below mean sea level.

To obtain the depth of water on the tide gauge at the Victoria Naval Yard add 5 feet 4 inches, and on the gauge at Lamouet Dock, Aberdeen, add 10 feet 6 inches to the height given in the table.

July 29th to August 4th, 1913.
